Miscellaneous

Google I/O 2024: Everything you need to know (14 minute read)

Google kicked off its I/O developer conference with a two-hour presentation containing a rapid-fire stream of announcements. This article summarizes these announcements into an easy-to-read list. The announcements include Firebase Genkit, an addition to the Firebase platform aimed at making it easier for developers to build AI-powered applications in JavaScript/TypeScript; LearnLM, a family of generative AI models fine-tuned for learning; AI-generated quizzes on YouTube; a new discovery feature for apps in Google Play; scam call detection; Ask Photos, a feature that lets users search across their Google Photos collection using natural language queries; and much more.

Gamma raises $12M Series A (5 minute read)

Gamma raised $12M from Accel to reimagine presentations using AI. So far, 60M+ Gammas (AI-generated slides) have been created across 18M+ users.

AI agent builds garple.com (3 minute read)

Garple is a website that sells short, easy-to-say .com domains that would make good startup names. All the code was written by an AI coding agent.

⚡

Quick Links

Learn to build no-code AI applications to increase productivity (Sponsor)

Whether you're new to AI or a seasoned expert, this free webinar by MindStudio will show you how to automate the tedious parts of (almost) any job. Register for the No Code AI Building Webinar

First-ever AI Code Interpreter for R (3 minute read)

Julius AI has launched the first-ever AI code interpreter for the programming language R, potentially revolutionizing how academic researchers perform statistical analysis.

Touch AI (Product)

Find ideal business customers using AI and Bayesian models for optimal delivery and conversion rates.

MoonDream on WebGPU (Hugging Face Space)

An experiment in running the small MoonDream VLM directly on the web with WebGPU inference.

Love TLDR? Tell your friends and get rewards!

Share your referral link below with friends to get free TLDR swag!

https://refer.tldr.tech/295321e4/2